Applying for Relocation and Rent Allowances : a Short Summary

The Relocation and Rent Allowances (in French: ADeL, or Allocations de Déménagement et de Loyers) are subsidies from the Walloon Region aiming to improve your housing conditions:

- If you live unhealthy or overcrowded housing to rent new housing;

- If you leave housing that is unsuitable for your disability or that of a member of your household to rent new housing;

- Or if you were homeless and now rent housing.

The following conditions apply:

- To be 18 years old (or to be an emancipated minor);
- To have low income (for example: the CPAS "RIS");
- To relocate to a housing that is healthy and adapted to your situation;
- Not to own a house;
- To commit yourself to respect some instructions (part IV of the form).

Conditions for Keeping a Rent Allowance

- The rent allowance is not granted for life.

Controllers will check every 2 years if you still meet the conditions to keep receiving this allowance.

You are no longer eligible for this allowance if:

- Your income is above the maximum amount allowed according to your situation;
- You become a house owner;
- You do not respect your commitments.

18

It is therefore very important:

- to inform the ADeL service in the event of a change of your situation (relocating, birth, new household, family regrouping, ...);
- Not to sublet your housing;
- Not to house new people if your housing is not big enough.

If, during a check, the ADeL service notices that you do not respect one of these conditions, you will have to pay back the undue amounts that you received

Some concrete examples

- Following a family regrouping, my family members arrive in my housing which is big enough for one person only ► I will have to find a new suitable housing and warn the ADeL service;
- My old residence permit was no longer valid, but I received a new one ► I will send a readable copy to the ADeL service;
- I'm moving to new housing ► I will report it as soon as possible to the ADeL service (within 3 months).
